

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A spatial-temporal tracking stamp system, GPS3M, enables users to assign a unique number for tracking and/or positioning purposes. The system provides a simple mode of recording and retrieving information based on coordinates in space and time. The system, with a high degree of accuracy, ease and reliability, measures and stamps location and time using alphanumeric symbols or digitization.